

November 12, 2025: On the Expressions Emphasized by the Spying Presence

During this time, the expressions of writing that are emphasized by this team of spies are primarily related to the connections that religion bears to evil.

I am receiving a distinct impression that this team of spies is attempting to emphasize to me that the evil way is the way to create in the world and that the religion of Judaism is in fact a cover for evil expression.

(Yes, I am receiving a loud air horn confirmation sound right now confirming this understanding. This is a very common occurrence in my life and represents the method by which the unnamed politician's team worked to 'speak' with me and interact with me in the beginning of this process of sign language communication.)

I am receiving an ongoing impression that this team believes firmly in the evil way and it is attempting to 'convert' my thoughts to evil. (Yes, more confirmation - very loud at this time.)

In response to this, I am writing that the writings explicitly state that duality exists in the world and that the positive and the negative should both be used in moderation to create for the good of humanity.

For example, the writings discuss sexual lust and drinking alcohol. The writings seem to advocate against a whole hearted abstinence against either sex or alcohol.

This would be contrary to much of the religion that was taught to me as a young person. The 'Christian' faith that was taught to me was often one of abstinence of sexual behavior and no alcohol of any sort. This is the way of the path of alcoholics anonymous, which is a Catholic or Christian teaching.

As a sovereign vessel that sought to find his own way in the world, I always disagreed with those teachings and moved myself into a path of 'moderation' which is what I personally read in the teachings of the Bible.

A path of moderation would mean a self-imposed limitation on both sexual lust and alcohol intake. (I am experiencing very loud train agitations now as I write this writing)(A train is loudly passing our house at 5:03am)

To use the aspects of mistaken (or even intentionally false) teachings of the church to justify that the 'evil' way is the 'right' way is simply to continue advancing the way of evil into the world despite having clear and convincing proof to the contrary.

If the teachings have become so far from the truth that they actually state the opposite of what was intended in the writings, and if that opposite teaching is producing the opposite effect in the world, then it is clearly a fact-based and logical proof that the writings and teachings are being used to advance the wrong path and should be corrected.

(Here, another vehicle is driving past my house now to 'advance' this idea as if to say that it agrees with me advancing a better understanding - all the while continuing to agitate me in all of the ways that prevent me from having a peaceful existence that would allow me to do so. This is the delusion of 'goodness' that this spying presence holds as it contains our country inside of a delusion of its own positive form while growing its evil on a minute-by-minute basis).

In conclusion, the teachings of the church (both Judaism and Catholicism, as well as Christianity) have strayed from the teachings of the Bible to such a degree that the teachings themselves are causing a decrease in the effectiveness and growth of the church.

These false teachings have led the people to wholly disagree with the church teachings and embrace drunkenness and sexual lust as normal and healthy things to increase in their way of life. Sexual prostitution and encouraging the corruption of the youth have become enflamed and encouraged as the path to adulthood. This represents an ineffective teaching which creates an ineffective faith. Both drunkenness and sexual lust should be noted as existing, and addressed in a more healthy understanding of their placement in the world as a healthy form of development (relationships, moderate alcohol intake, etc).

The people are suffering because of this lack of effectiveness in the teachings of the church and state. The state is consumed by evil because of the lack of effectiveness of improper church teachings. The society is consumed by evil because of a lack of effectiveness of improper state functions. And consequently, I am consumed by an environment that is evil and will not allow me to live in peace as I continue forward in a path of life that should be leading to both peace and a successful future.

People that are operating as the 'club of insiders' that are holding themselves out to be (that are exalting themselves to be) the leaders of our community are so far from a proper understanding of the church teachings that they are literally destroying the church and state as they preach to us about how well they are leading us toward success.

The truth is that people have become so far removed from the actual words of the Bible that they are moving themselves and everyone around them into the way of evil while actually believing that they are leading themselves and us toward good and God.

THIS IS THE DELUSION AND TRICK OF SATAN.
